*Source, Service Quality Indicators, First Half 2007, MTA New York City Transit Committee Agenda, September 2007, p. 220 – 224. Schleppe Awards are based on the percentages of buses (1) arriving with large gaps during the day and (2) departing significantly off schedule at night, based on MTA New York City Transit performance measurement statistics of reliability. A Schleppe is awarded to any route with a combined weighted average of unreliability greater than 20%.
